FOURTEEN PRISONERS OVER-POWER GUARDS AT GUTHRIE.

Bill Doolin and "Dynamite Dick" Are Among the Escapes—Forty-five inmates of the Pen Refuse to Go Along—Bill Lightman in Pursuit.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
GUTHRIE (Okla.), July 5.—Fourteen prisoners overpowered the guards in the United States jail at 9:30 o'clock tonight and broke jail. Bill Doolin and "Dynamite Dick," the last survivors of the Dalton gang, who were wanted for the murders committed in the Ingalls fight, at which four deputy marshals were killed, were the principal actors.
Fourteen out of fifty-nine prisoners escaped. They were the most desperate characters. They are:
"DYNAMITE DICK,"
CHARLES MONTGOMERY,
JIM BLACK,
WALT MCCLAM,
BILL CRITTENDEN,
ED LAWRENCE,
GEORGE LANE,
"KID" PHILLIPS,
HENRY IRVIN,
BILL JONES,
C. O. NIX,
LEE KILLIAN,
WILLIAM BECK.
They got the guards' two revolvers and Winchester by a rush out of the cage when the cage was open, and, knocking one of the guards down, displaced the other two in the steel cages, making them enter at the points of their revolvers. Having secured their safe, the ringleaders called for every one of the prisoners to escape if they wanted to.
Only fourteen followed. William Beck was so weak that he sat by the side of a road out of the city, wondering how he would escape. Later the outlaws made a man named Schofield and his girl get out of a buggy and give it to them. A posse of deputy marshals headed by Bill Lightman, who captured Doolin, went in pursuit of the escaped prisoners.

ELKS' REUNION.

Both Factions of the Order to Meet at Cincinnati.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) CINCINNATI, July 5.—The city is in holiday attire for the twenty-fifth annual reunion of the Benevolent Protective Order of Elks, which occurs this week. This promises to be the greatest event in the history of Elkdom, it being the first grand lodge meeting of the reunited factions of Elks, whose quarrel last year came near being fatal.
The entertainment provided by the Reunion Committee is most elaborate.
Tomorrow the Elks' Reception Committee will escort visiting Elks to their headquarters. Tuesday the grand lodge holds its first meeting, at which the freedom of the city will be extended to all Elks by Mayor Caldwell.
Various addresses will follow. In the afternoon there will be excursions, followed in the evening by entertainment at the Zoological Gardens. Wednesday morning the grand lodge meets, and in the afternoon and evening Chester Park and the Ludlow Lodge will be visited. A feature of Chester Park will be the playing of the Elks' Reunion March, participated in by over 1000 musicians. On Thursday the great parade occurs.
Prizes have been offered visiting bands. Individual prizes have also been offered for Elks. The Ladies' Reception Committee takes charge of all visiting Elks' wives. It is estimated that there will be over 15,000 visitors.

FIERCE AND BLOODY.

Fight at a Russian Picnic at Maspeth, L. I.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
NEW YORK, July 5.—The Independent Order of the Late Soldiers of Russia gave a picnic today in the park of William Sewall at Maspeth, L. I.
The organization is composed of two factions, the independents and the regulars. The factions came together in a conflict that was both fierce and bloody. Sheriff Henry Dohi of Queens's county and fifty deputies were hastily summoned to the scene. After a struggle of half an hour they succeeded in arresting fifty-nine of the belligerents.
A hundred men had been more or less injured.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) OMAHA (Neb.), July 5.—A special to the Bee from Alliance, Neb., says: "A mysterious murder has been added to the list of sad and tragedies. W. H.
Hubbell, a prominent stockman of the city, was found lying near the railroad track just this side of Lakeside at an early hour this morning with a deep wound in the back of his head. He died in a few minutes and there is no clue to his murder, although certain parties are suspected of the deed from motives of revenge.

London Papers Give Unusual Space to American Affairs.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
LONDON, July 5.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The London papers this morning devote unusual space to very full reports of all the Fourth of July celebrations which took place at different places in Europe on Saturday, including the meeting at which W. T. Stead, Sir Walter Besant, Dr. Bentley of Oakfield and Dr. Gilbert of Chicago and Mr. Duncan of Liverpool favored the unity of the English-speaking world.
The newspapers also contained editorials of congratulations at the amity between English people and Americans displayed.

"BIG SIX" SUSPENDED.

A New York Typographical Union Suspended.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.)
NEW YORK, July 6.—The Central Labor Union suspended Typographical Union No. 6 today. The union is known as the "Big Six," and is one of the largest unions connected with the Central Labor Union. Delegates George Warner of the International Machinists' Union, complained of the "Big Six." He said the machinists who took care of the typesetting machines would not belong to the International Machinists' Union and seceded.

RAPPINGS.

Sounds Which Indicate that the Entombment Men Are Alive.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS WIRE.) WILKESBARRE (Pa.), July 6.—A report received here from Pittston, Pa., indicates some of the men in the Twin Shaft may be taken out alive, the rescuing parties having heard shouts before midnight distinct rappings, which have been made by some of the entombed men.

The Situation as It Appeared Late Last Night—Silverites Will Claim a Corner on Jaw—Daniel of Virginia for Temporary Chairman.

(BY THE TIMES' SPECIAL WIRE.) CHICAGO, July 5.—(Special Dispatch.) The Moon Worshippers have broken the Sabbath with their strident howls in the hotel lobbies until the day in Chicago looks like the wreck of a China shop. The Palmer, the Sherman and the Auditorium have each been filled the living day with a noisy and restless kang of cranks, who shouted their shibboleth of "16 to 1" until they are hoarse, and the gold men who made a valiant effort Saturday night have had their labor for their pains. They have not changed a vote, and the silver crowd is still in the saddle determined to ride the party of Grover Cleveland hell-bent to destruction.

AN UNCANNY LOT.

These silver shriekers who dominate this portion of the earth are an uncanny lot. They have loud voices and louder breaths. Some of them wear the toggery of the hay-farm and look as if they had just come in out of the field of sweet odors to do politics, if that is the proper name for it, without having taken time for a bath, or for seeing the barber. Others of them wear shiny chimney-pot hats and long black coats in defiance of the climate, and these latter are the noisiest of the lot. They roar and rant like the bulls of Bashan. They are deaf to reason, and are too ignorant to understand it even if they could hear.
One particular individual of the plug-hat type, is making the rounds of the hotels and yawling for free silver like a crazy man. I have asked a dozen men what the damphool's name is, but none of them know, and seem to care less. He is probably from Oregon, as he occasionally frees a yawn for Pen-noyer, but the lungs and the breath of him is enough to defeat any candidate.

THE BOOMERS.

The Bland boom has taken its second wind, and now seems to be far in the lead, with McLean, the Cincinnati newspaper man, as the tall to the Bland kite. Aligned and his delegation have come out for the Missouri farmer, or at least thirty-three of them have,
and this strong reinforcement is giving the other candidates much concern.
Horace Boies, who flitted into town yesterday morning, throwing dignity to the winds in order to make a personal campaign for the nomination, flitted back to his Iowa hay crop last night, where he will remain with his ear to the ground listening for the long, dull rumble that will tell of his victory. He is likely to listen in vain, for the stars appear to declare that Pike county, Missouri, houses the candidate who is to have the doubtful honor of splitting the bad old party wide open from stem to gudgeon, for that the nomination of a silver man and the adoption of a free-coinage plank in the platform means a grand smash in the Democracy, is as sure as fate itself.

WHAT AN EXCUSE.

It looks as if gold men are forcing Teller's nomination, hoping that by this means they may have a good excuse for kicking over the traces and voting for McKinley. The silver shouters, except a meager few, are dead against Teller and are resolute in the determination that no one but a Democrat who is dyed in the wool shall be placed at the head of the ticket. They iterate and reiterate: "No more Horace Creeley business for us." Aligned is industri-ously keeping his mouth shut just now, as he has doubtless awakened to the fact that he has shot it off too much already. He fights shy if the interviewer with the facile pencil, and lays low generally. But he and his strength in the Sucker delegation may surely be counted for Bland.

DAVID B. LOOMING UP.

As previously telegraphed, Senator Hill of New York appears to have the call for the temporary chairmanship, and it is a bitter pill for the fat-money gang, who swallow the dose with a wry face, for David B. is all gold and a yard wide. His selection seems assured at this writing.

SOME MORE BOOMS.

Virginia thought it had a candidate for the Vice-Presidency in the person of Senator Daniel, but has thought better of it and his name will not be presented. The Pattison boom, which has been somewhat belated, is on the ground, but there is not enough of it to make the Chicago sky-scrapers totter on their foundations. He is too big a man apparently for the ghost dancers to train with, and he will have to wait until the silvery cloud rolls by.
The Hoosiers, with Claude Matthews in tow, are lying low and waiting that they will have to take it out in waiting seems highly probable.

A FEATURE LACKING.

One of the picturesque features of four years ago, Burke Cochran and his solid anti-Cleveland seventy-two from the Empire State, is sadly wanting.
On that occasion New York was the center of all eyes. Alas, how different in 1896. Now that State of wealth and splendor of achievement is being reviled, spat upon and insulted on every street corner and every hotel lobby in Chicago. Its great men of commerce are called robbers, cutthroats and filchers from the poor, and only a few beg-garly "goldbugs," so-called, are to do it reverence. Four years ago New York was placarding the windows of the town with arguments showing why Cleveland could not carry that State, although he was of it, and yet had to go home shouting for Grover and these famous four promised years of clover which turned out to be one of old Bill Allen's "damned barren idealities."

BURKE COCHRAN, one of the Democracy's biggest and brainiest men, is not here and the New York delegation is to have no hand in the proceedings, so far as concerns the final results. But when you come to think of it, that was New York's experience in 1892.

BRYAN'S SHOW TO WIN.

Nebraska appears to be coming up the back stretch just now with a hurrah for William J. Bryan. He is a bravely fellow, and if his name comes up this week in the Coliseum it is likely to stir up quite a big bit of enthusiasm.

As the shanty on the edge of Cook county will see. So long as it is the field against Bland, Bryan would seem to have as good a show to win as anybody else.

FLOWER WANTS TO BOLT.

Ex-Gov. Flower is the most earnest, consistent and aggressive opponent of free silver in Chicago. He is outspoken in favor of a bolt and the nomination of a candidate whom the real Democrats of the country can consistently support. This stolid stand of the New Yorker is making some of the more conservative Moon Worshippers stop and think a bit. They are beginning to question if they are not crowding the mourners a little too hard, and have even gone so far as to caucus on the advisability of conceding something to the sound-money element. It is this kind of makes it appear sure that so strong opposition will be made to Hill's selection for the chairmanship. The gold men are now claiming that in case a silver plank is adopted, they will not be in the convention hall when the roll is called for nominations. In other words, they will not walk out of the convention, for they will not have walked in.

The situation today is highly interesting and the indications are that there will be a row, riot and uproar before the week is over, which will rather lay over any previous Democratic cyclone that has ever struck Chicago or any other town.

The Times

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Saturday night's Water Carnival at San Diego was one of the grandest spectacular affairs ever occurring at that beautiful harbor and gave pleasure to tens of thousands of spectators. San Diego is an ideal place for water carnivals.

Even carrier-pigeons will sometimes go astray, as is shown by the fact that the bird that should have brought The Times news budget from Catalina Saturday evening did not arrive until yesterday. The homing birds do not often fall thus to get in on time.

Light-harness racing is beginning to enjoy its annual summer boom. In the northern part of the state and ere long we shall catch the echoes of the hoofs, from the various cities on the circuit, where the flyers are billed to appear and race for the fat purses that are hung up all along the line, ready to be parcelled out to the lucky winners.

"No more tramp boats!" is the watchword at Catalina. There are excellent chances for a "scrap." A band of fourteen men, all armed to the teeth and thirsting for gore, landed on the hitherto peaceful shores of Catalina and will patrol the island and see that no competition is permitted in the transportation business. As for pleasure craft and their passengers, they are still welcome guests.

The fight for the Blythe millions, which has been waged without pause for many years past, seems to be almost as far from settlement as ever. One of the claimants who lives in Downey is about to start for San Francisco to consult with his attorneys. He was a firm believer in the justice of the cause of the Kentucky Blythes and says the case will be carried on up to the United States Supreme Court at once. For the mean while, the estate is tied up and Florence Blythe-Hinkley is hard pressed financially.

If the residents of the west end of Temple street and the Chahuenga Valley desire Temple street widened and extended, they would better agree among themselves as to the nature of the improvements desired. The Board of Supervisors is not pleased with the situation and will take no definite steps so long as the strife continues among those most deeply interested in this necessary road improvement. All cannot be satisfied, but some plan should be agreed upon that would lead to the prosecution of this work.

The Sunday law has effectively closed all public drinking places for man and beast. This is shown by the fact that the horse watering troughs maintained for six days of the week in front of certain and sundry saloons in the city go dry as a powder house on Sunday. Inasmuch as these watering troughs are automatic in their action, requiring no attention to keep them in order, there seems to be good ground for the supposition that the drinking places for horses are kept solely to attract the kind of bled drinkers who can go indoors and pay the price for what they imbibe. Horses need their drinks on Sunday, and as they cannot carry their bottles with them as their drivers can, the public watering troughs should be made available seven days in a week or not at all.

The City Council has acceded to a number of requests for financial aid from various benevolent organizations until the impression seems to have become general that the deposit vaults of the city are intended, in a measure, for the purpose of maintaining charitable societies, which, while entirely worthy, and deserving of assistance, yet have no claim on the funds collected from the taxpayers of the city, for the sole purpose of maintaining the city government. There is ground for the suspicion, whether it is correct or not, that the City Council is not averse, at this time, when the municipal election approaches, and every possible source of support and strength needs to be cultivated, to doling out these public funds to the aforesaid petitioning benevolent organizations, in the hope of securing their good will or something stronger, next winter.

The local oil industry is in a healthy condition. Last month's output equalled the consumption, but left no surplus for storage. There is some talk of a combination of consumers being organized for the purpose of reducing prices, but it is doubtful that any such action will be taken. A few sales are being made at the well tanks for about $1 per barrel; this is probably the lowest price paid for the crude product. New wells are adding little or no surplus, the falling off in the output of old wells maintaining an equilibrium. Another important condition presents itself. At the present time the consumption is much less than it will be a few months hence. This is the dull season of the year and manufacturers are running short handed and but little oil is needed for heating purposes. A few months hence will witness a material change in respect to industrial activity, and the winter months will demand the operation of heating apparatus. The market for fuel oil is expanding and it is probable that the resources of the Los Angeles oil field will be taxed to the utmost to meet the new condition. Capital is becoming interested in the industry, and preparations have already been made for carrying a large surplus in well-constructed iron tanks. There is probably sufficient capital invested by financiers to resist any organized attempt to reduce prices.

A marvelous invention. Everybody invited to see in operation the wonderful Blue Flame, non-explosive, coal oil cook stove at P. D. Brown, 515 E. Spring.

PETROLEUM INDUSTRY.

DRILLING ACTIVITY CONTINUES IN THE LOS ANGELES OIL FIELD.

Some Talk of Combination to Reduce the Price of Oil—Last Month Product Left No Surplus—Danger of Fire.

Much new work is being done in the oil field, but a falling off in activity is noted among "four-wheelers." The quotations in the oil market remain practically unchanged. Heavy consumers are indulging in threats of a combination to break the market, but nothing in the way of formidable co-operation for this purpose has been agreed upon, and it is doubtful if an organization of this supposed character can be successfully formed. The falling off in the product of old wells is a menace to such action.

Last month's output of the Los Angeles oil field equalled the demands made upon the district, but left no surplus on hand. Saturday was observed as a holiday by workmen in the field and five policemen were kept pretty busy enforcing the mandate prohibiting the lighting of firecrackers in the oil field on the Fourth of July. The danger from fire is daily growing more imminent; the green lumber used in the construction of tanks, derricks and small houses is becoming as inflammable as kindling and hundreds of slum holes are a menace to life and property, the water having evaporated and left pools of light oil exposed to the touch of a careless match. The danger is intensified by natural gas escaping from nearly all of the wells. Several pumping plants are operated almost exclusively by natural gas fuel, and upon Sundays and holidays, when these plants are not in operation, the roar of escaping gas can be heard for some distance, so great is the resistant pressure. And the gas seems to be accumulating and there is more or less danger under exercise of the greatest care. An engineer at the Rex Oil Company's pumping plant was burned nearly to death a few days ago by an explosion of this gas.

DRILLING NOTES.
The drill has been started in Turner Bros.' new well on Rockwood, near Belmont avenue.

A derrick is being erected by the Green Crude Oil Company on the south side of First street, west of Belmont avenue.

A. H. Hedley has erected a new standard rig just south of his oil well on First street, near Union avenue. The Belmont Oil Company has erected a derrick at the northwest corner of First street and Belmont avenue, and drilling machinery will soon be in. Doherty, McGinnis, Scott and Connor are interested in the company. Two new wells will be drilled at this site by the above named parties.

The Rex Oil Company is erecting a new derrick among its numerous oil wells on the south side of First street, midway between Belmont and Union avenues.

One new sixty-four-foot derrick has been erected in the burned district. G. W. Tubbs is the builder, and it stands a lofty sentinel among the law towers that have sprung up among the charred ruins.

Work is progressing slowly in the reconstruction of Straus's cremated pumping plant. Aside from low derricks, small oil tanks and vacant house sites, Metcalf street is resuming its wonted aspect.

The tubing strg has not yet been reached in the Richard Green Crude Oil Company's well, on the north side of Court street, between Ohio and Union avenues.

Gibbs is putting in a new pumping plant at the site of the Rex Oil Company's wells on the south side of First street, between Belmont and Union avenues.

A depth of 950 feet has been reached in one of the Rex wells, on the south side of First street, west of Belmont avenue. The contract calls for a depth of 1300 feet. The Traction Electric Railway Company has reached a depth of 940 feet in its second new well, at the southwest corner of First street and Belmont avenue.

A new derrick has been erected by the Eastside Oil Company, west of Lakeshore and north of West State street.

The Rummell Oil Company is erecting a standard rig near the Davis & Home well, at Douglas and Court streets.

Alderson has erected a new derrick and will soon begin drilling operations on Court street, between Ohio and Douglas streets.

A depth of 600 feet has been reached in the American Crude Oil Company's new well, its pumping plant on upper West State street.

The People's Oil Company has started the drill in its new well west of Ohio and south of Court street.

Two drilling rigs are in operation upon the Star Oil Company's property on Tolosa street, near West State street, and a third derrick is now being erected.

The Rummell Oil Company is in 950 feet at the southeast corner of Court and Ohio streets.

Parker & Merrill have reached a depth of 550 feet in their new well on Court street, near its junction with Ohio street.

Parker has erected a new 600-barrel tank at his wells on Metcalf street, in the burned district of the oil field.

Drilling operations will soon begin at the site of Frank Davis's new well, south of the Booley pumping plant.

The derrick and machinery will soon be in place for prosecuting work at the site of H. H. Harrison's new well, on Figueroa street.

Hoffman & Weiler's new well promises to develop into a good producer. This property is situated on Figueroa street.

A depth of 535 feet has been reached in the new Stewart well on Figueroa street.

Ed North's new well has not yet reached the tubing.

The drill is making good progress in the Raymond Oil Company's new well on Anselmo street between Figueroa street and Beaudry avenue.

The Burns well on Temple street, near Victor, is only a fair producer. Powell's new well, in the same locality, has been pumping water, but it is believed the aqueous flow has been successfully packed.

Doherty & Connors' well at the northwest corner of Tolosa and West State streets is still pumping a heavy flow of water.

The Commercial Value of "Tribly." (Harper's Weekly.) It is a common-place that the author of a charming book is a public benefactor; but perhaps few have realized that a successful author is, in proportion to his success, a more or less eminent philanthropist; that he is less beneficent, money-wise, than the rich man who thrusts his hand into his well-filled pocket and taking therefrom $100,000, or a half-million, or even a $1,000,000 puts that amount into circulation to stimulate industry, and to be distributed among working people of all grades. In illustration of this fact it may be interesting to note that more than $1,000,000 has been thus put in circulation as a direct consequence of the publication and dramatization of "Tribly." Up to January 25, 1896, the sales of copies of Du Maurier's novel in this country, added to box-office receipts at representations of the play

In New York and other points in the United States, and to the royalties upon the book and the play, give a total of less than a million dollars; and this does not include the product of sales and representations in England—certainly a large sum, although information is lacking in regard to the precise amount.

Claudia latet, vis est notissima: the source of it all is just a light, elusive thing—intangible, mysterious. First there is a genial idea; then an artistic presentation of that idea is achieved with pen and pencil; and then if chance has favored the venture, a great fortune is distributed within a year or two, in salaries, in wages—in uncounted ways, to innumerable beneficiaries.

A successful author is a commercially valuable possession for a community. A group of writers, although their product may be pure fiction—mere fiction—constitute a substantial and most important industry.

COUNCIL FORECAST.

Business to Come Before the City Fathers Today.

There are a number of matters that will come before the City Council today, if the Board of Public Works meets, before the Council is called to order, and make a report to that body upon these matters. No meeting of the board was held last week, which is a rare circumstance, and as the board is the most important committee of the Council, the gist of business which that body may transact today will depend largely on whether the Board of Public Works does or does not meet.

Councilman Kingery, as chairman of the Committee on Public Morals, will present to the Council a report recommending the adoption of an ordinance, which, when operative, will result in closing nearly every place of business in the city on Sunday, excepting only being made of drug stores, hotels, restaurants and livery stables. This report will be signed by Messrs. Kingery and Stowell, but not by Savage, the remaining member of the committee, who has not attended any meeting of the committee or the meetings of the Council either for several weeks. There is quite certain to be a spirited debate in the Council upon the adoption of this report, as the sentiment regarding the Sunday-closing proposition is not at all one-sided. The report of the committee will probably be adopted, although it may be subjected to several changes, before that end is reached.

The Finance Committee will report recommending that requisites be approved for the employment of ten extra policemen to serve during the summer vacations of the regular officers.

A petition from the King's Daughters asking for financial assistance from the Council to aid them in maintaining their day nurseries, will be received and referred to the Finance Committee.

City Attorney Dunn will report an ordinance which, if adopted, will give the Health Officer four men, to be used in keeping the gutters of the paved streets clean. The measure is quite sure to pass.

JAMES BLYTHE'S MILLIONS.

Bitter Struggle for a Rich Estate Still Continues.

B. M. Blythe of Downey will leave today for a week or ten days' trip to San Francisco. He has received letters from his attorneys, S. W. and G. B. Holladay, that they are ready to appeal the case of the Kentucky Blythes, who claim a share of the big Blythe estate, to the Supreme Court of the United States.

"I am going to put up the money to defray the expenses in that appeal," said Mr. Blythe. "The case went to trial in July, 1889, and consumed 23 days. The attorneys for Florence Blythe at that time contended she was adopted under sec. 230 of the Code of Civil Procedure. She was illegitimate and a subject of Queen Victoria. She was never in America until after Blythe's death and never saw him alive. Blythe left London for San Francisco three months before she was born, and he was never in England again."

England has no adoption law. The Probate Court decided she was adopted under sec. 230. The case was appealed to the Supreme Court. Chief Justice Beatty and Justice Harrison were divided 4-4. The case was tried in bank with five judges. The five judges decided she could not be adopted under sec. 230. Ex-Atty-Gen. Hart testified in the trial he happened in Blythe's office on four different times and saw Blythe writing to Florence. There was no reference in either letter to adoption or making her an heir.

The Probate Court ruled Hart's testimony was incompetent, as he was one of her attorneys in the case. Yet three of the judges found that the four letters constituted her an heir to the deceased under sec. 137. My attorneys think the court erred in that finding, and one can see she has no decision from the majority of the Supreme bench. We think we will defeat her in the Supreme Court of the United States.

Mrs. Florence Blythe Hineley is very much embarrassed financially. She owes and has contracts out promising to pay $1500. She wants to sell the property or borrow money to build some sky-scraping houses on the Blythe block, but who is going to advance the money on chances of losing all? T. I. Bergin, one of her attorneys, has sued her for $15,000 borrowed money. Mrs. William Carey has sued her for $5000. I say she is an imposter. She is the daughter of Joseph James Soperoff, who married her mother when Florence was 3 years old, thinking he was her father. She is not the child of Thomas H. Blythe, and for that reason and many others I am going to stay with the fight till the Kentucky Blythe wins. We have one appeal case in the Federal Court and while we are waiting for that, we will prepare this appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States.

MINING NEWS.

Extensive and Business-like Development at the Golden Cross.

Since Receiver W. W. Stewart, of San Diego took charge of the Golden Cross Mining Company's property at Hedges, a decided change for the better is apparent. The ore averages a much better grade, the mill shows a close saving of gold and the tonnage is much greater. Instead of hanging up more or less stamps, forty or more, every night, the mill is now kept running to its full capacity.

The forty-stamp mill, which was shut down about May 1, will soon be started up again. The Queen mine, which was closed up on account of fire in the timbers, is once more contributing its high grade ore to the mill. There is quite a quantity of water in the bottom of this mine, having been run in to put out the fire. Mr. Stewart purchased a powerful pump at Los Angeles, which will soon lift the water out and then the 400 and 500-foot levels will be ready to furnish the high-grade ore that has heretofore done so much to make bullion.

The incline shaft of the Cross mine will soon be down to the 300-foot level and in about ten days ore will be taken out of that level and it will be opened up quickly. The 200-foot level of this mine is 185 feet by 135 feet and 100 feet thick. The Crown mine is doing very nicely and is turning out 100 cars daily of $8.50 to $7 ore. Another 100 feet in depth will increase grade of this ore to $10 easily, as all the ore chutes show that they improve with depth.

The mill is crushing 800 tons per day and will render a good accounting when clean-up day comes around. The officers of the company declare that in less than six months the property will be free and clear of all embarrassment and they only ask that the mines and mills have a fair chance.

A twenty-stamp mill will be erected in a very short time at the Leon mine, a few miles southwest of Winchester. The stockholders of the company held a meeting recently and decided to purchase a mill of twenty-stamp capacity immediately, development having progressed sufficiently far to show that such an investment would be safe. Machinery will also be put in to furnish water for the mill. The supply will be pumped at a point a little more than a mile away from the mine, pipes will be laid and the water will be forced up to the mill. A fifty-year lease on a water right has been secured and it is believed that an inexhaustible supply can be economically raised. The mine is opening up in excellent shape, and is exceeding the expectations of the stockholders. The first level has been excavated to a length of 130 feet, and work is progressing on the lower levels with a large force of men. All indications are encouraging, and the owners are certain they have what will prove a big bullion producer.

Messrs. Boone and Fuller are pushing work vigorously on both the Lucky Boy and Green Mountain claims near Perris with fine prospects.

There is a conflict of opinion among portions near the Santa Rosa mines near Perris between prospectors and those who agree to furnish necessary mineral land in that locality for agricultural purposes. The land is still unsurveyed, but these squatters are upon the land, and are making the conflict and bad blood. The question of title to the land will evidently be settled by the government when the land is surveyed and the work of building the smelter will be begun at Cerrillos.

Pedro Negro and a number of Guaymas and Hermosillo capitalists have organized a company to operate the Italia mine at La Junta, about thirty miles north of Mesquite Springs. The capital stock is $125,000. A ten-stamp mill will be erected at once, and the property will be put upon the list of bullion producers.

There is at present more than usual activity in mining in the vicinity of Bumblebee, where many excellent gold properties are being worked. All that section of Arizona around Mayers is active and a daily stage now plies between this mining settlement and Prescott. The great mining industry of this Territory is rapidly forging ahead, and daily new mines wheel in to the line of producers.

GOLD AT GARLOCK.

GARLOCK (via Mojave), July 5.—A mining expert from San Francisco has been making a tour of the mines, and in his prospecting located a 600-foot ledge near Garlock, which shows $200 to the ton in gold and silver.

FOLLOWS HIS HAT.

Nic Schille's Falls from a Vernon Street Car.

Nic Schille was taken to the Receiving Hospital last night to recover from the effects of a fall from a street car. Schille was standing on the rear platform of a car and, it is said, was a little worse off for liquor.

At the corner of Second and San Pedro his hat blew off and in endeavoring to recover it before it reached the ground, he was thrown from the car. Schille lay like one dead, in the road, and the patrol wagon was called and he was conveyed to the Receiving Hospital, where he said that while lying in the road he dreamed that he had been sandbagged. He was only slightly bruised and was able to go home.

Gasoline Stove Explosion.

A gasoline stove exploded in the kitchen of G. H. Freeman's house, No. 1723 Maple avenue shortly after noon yesterday and set fire to the woodwork. The blaze was extinguished before the arrival of the department in response to an alarm turned in by Officer McKenzie.

Gathered Them In.

"Thou shalt not shine on the Sabbath," thinks Officer Phillips, and he therefore placed Willie Smith, James Hunt and Arthur Snow behind the bars at police headquarters yesterday morning. The young men were obstructing the corner of First and Main streets.
